Re: MB Docket No. 13-50

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On November 7, 2013, the undersigned spoke on the telephone with Holly Saurer, Media Advisor to Commissioner Jessica Rosenworcel, concerning the proposed Declaratory Ruling in the above-referenced docket, which is tentatively scheduled for consideration at the Commission's November 14 open meeting. The purpose of the Declaratory Ruling is to clarify the Commission's policies and procedures in reviewing broadcast applications for transfer of control or assignment of license that include a request for a determination under Section 310(b)(4) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, that foreign ownership in excess of 25 percent in the parent company of a broadcast licensee will not disserve the public interest. See Public Notice, "Media Bureau Announces Filing of Request for Clarification of the Commission's Policies and Procedures Under 47 U.S.C. § 310(b)(4) by the Coalition for Broadcast Investment," DA 13-281 (rel. Feb. 26, 2013). The Coalition for Broadcast Investment seeks a ruling that the Commission will "conduct a substantive, facts and circumstances evaluation of proposals for foreign investment in excess" of the 25 percent limit. I advised Ms. Saurer that NBCUniversal Media, LLC ("NBCUniversal") supports initiatives that will increase the flow of capital to U.S. broadcasting companies. I also noted that if the Declaratory Ruling is adopted, it will signal an openness on the part of the U.S. that could help U.S. broadcast companies gain greater access to foreign media markets, some of which allow no foreign investment in their broadcasting enterprises. For this reason, I urged that the Commission consider including a statement in the Declaratory Ruling expressing the Commission's hope that this action will spur foreign governments to open their own media markets to greater investment by U.S. companies.
